Clothes and footwear:

- Mountaineering Double or triple boots. Double: plastic or leather. For plastic we recommend Scarpa Vega – they seem to be the warmest of the double boots.
- Trainers or trekking boots. Ideally both. Sneakers for the base camp trail, light boots for the acclimatisation exit and base camp. You can also just have trainers.
- Waterproof layer – jacket + trousers. The industry offers a wide range of products, from simple 5000/5000 membranes to Gore-Tex products.
- Fleece suit.
- Thermal underwear layer – top and bottom.
- Thick and warm down coat.
- Thick gloves.
- Thin gloves.
- Bandana (in addition to protecting you from the sun in the valley, can be used to warm your neck or face in the cold).
- A cap.
- Warm trekking socks for the day of the climb.

Miscellaneous:

- LED headlamp.
- A pair of sunglasses.
- Ski goggles.
- 1L thermos. Preferably without a button on the lid.
