For a quote, provide the itinerary by day and camp, the names of participants and staff, the number and weight of duffels, the allocation of up to seven full-board days by date and camp, hotel nights and room types, dietary restrictions, and the leader’s contact details and authority to approve supplements.

Participants bring their own clothing, boots and technical climbing equipment, sleeping bag and camping kit for the team’s plan, headlamp, batteries, power bank, flask, water containers, personal first-aid kit and toiletries. Specify mule transport, porters and equipment to be supplied in writing.

Mules and high-altitude porters on Aconcagua